

KONIAG LAND ACCESS PERMIT PROGRAM

Thank you for your interest in visiting Koniag's lands. Our permitting program gives you the ability to experience our ancestral lands without damaging their pristine habitat or unparalleled wilderness character.

Unguided users are required to obtain a Land Access Permit, available online or at Koniag's office in Kodiak, and carry the permit with them at all times while visiting Koniag's lands. Unguided Land Access Permits are valid for one calendar year. Koniag's lands that are open to unguided users include lands on Afognak Island, Womens Bay, parts of Karluk Lake and River, and the Sturgeon River Basin at certain times of the year. Camping is prohibited in certain areas with sensitive habitats within one mile of the Karluk River. Only the areas along the Karluk River listed on the Land Use Map are open to overnight camping. Users may spend up to one week in each designated area. Group size is limited to 6 people.

Guided users are also required to obtain a Land Access Permit, which are also available online or at Koniag's office in Kodiak. Guided Land Access Permits are only valid for one guided trip to Koniag's land, and your guide must have a valid Commercial Use Permit from Koniag. Please refer to the Land Access Permit application for all details regarding the terms and conditions of this conditional use permit.

When using a commercial aircraft or boat to visit Koniag's land, Unguided and Guided users may only travel with a licensed Commercial Operator. The list of current approved Commercial Operators can be found on our permitting website at www.koniag.com For questions, call (907) 486-2530 or email lands@koniag.com

The cost of Unguided and Guided Land Access Permits include endorsements for fishing, berry picking, small game/waterfowl hunting, and non-commercial filming/still photography. Other use endorsements, such as access for hunting (bear, deer/caribou, or goat hunting) and commercial filming can be purchased for an additional cost.

Please note that these permits are neither hunting nor fishing licenses – these must be obtained from authorized vendors or from the Alaska Department of Fish and Game.

Permission to enter and use permitted lands is conditional upon compliance with these and any other applicable use restrictions, and may be revoked at any time for failure to comply. Violations of permit stipulations will result in denial of future permit applications, and may subject the permit holder to legal action by Koniag.

Koniag appreciates your interest in recreation opportunities on our lands, and your respect for our lands. Your compliance with our Land Access Permit regulations will result in a successful and efficient implementation of this program, which in turn will allow your continued use and enjoyment of these private lands now and in the future.

Thank You!
